

Brickmakers In Nepal

Power of God's Word 03/04/2013

It just keeps happening!
These photos came to us in an email about “very good responses” in Nepal. In a phone call Ramesh gave the following details.

He said that one of his evangelists used a solar-powered audio player formatted with God's Story to witness to a family of brick-makers. These workers come down to the valley for 6 months of the year to work. Then they return home “to a very far place” high in the Himalayas.

One family listened to the God's Story in Nepali and was saved. They begged to have the player so they could share the story with other families.

For several days the solar player was passed from family to family. They can't read, but they can listen to the Bible stories.

Ramesh gushed out, “Mom, nine Hindu families came to the Christ. I sent you some pictures. I have never seen anything like this before.”

“Can I share these pictures with others? Is it a problem to show their faces?” I asked.

“Of course not Mom! The families already went to the brick factory and have been telling everyone about Jesus! Everyone knows what happened. Sunday we had a celebration with our local believers and the nine families. We will teach them more, and they will go back home and plant churches.” (3 months later, after the workers returned to all of their villages, 10 house churches were meeting in various villages, sharing 4 solar players to study the Word.)

Most of us have memorized Hebrews 4:12, we quote it, put it on banners and give eloquent sermons on it, but when we see it at work before our eyes, we say, “How do I know this report is true? I have not seen anything like this happening.” As Ramesh has told us, about his change to using chronological storytelling, “Now that I start at the head not the tail, more people are coming the Christ faster than ever before, and they do not fall away!”

Must we persuade and convince or will God supernaturally bring people into His family as we wisely use His whole sword? Hebrews 4:12 “For the word of God is quick, and powerful, and sharper than any twoedged sword, piercing even to the dividing asunder of soul and spirit, and of the joints and marrow, and is a discernor of the thoughts and intents of the heart.”
