North Africa: They see Love in Us

“Many times I tell them stories and they love them. Especially about the Samaritan woman whose life was transformed when she listened to Jesus and not only she, but how she brought others to Christ.

“Right now I am so encouraged because I am finding out that as soon as I share God’s word, people want to know the truth. They tell me that they see love in us which is something they don’t have.

“We are such a privileged people to have such an honor to proclaim His name.”

Partnership with Presbyterian Frontiers Fellowship (PFF)

At the conference they sang in Arssi in their traditional style. Rukia, trained in the Bible storytelling workshops PFF sponsored in 2008, preached.

“She told a Bible story and then asked people to turn to each other and retell the story. Soon she had more than 500 people telling the Bible story and discussing it among themselves.”

[Our STS staff led numerous partnership workshops in Ethiopia. PFF sent leaders to Kenya for training.]
Not Much Duplication …Before That is!

“I've been teaching Bible classes in SE Asia for many years and the material I used was good and solid but… even though it was designed to be duplicatable, I didn't see much duplication.

“For one thing all of the courses required written material which meant those taking my class had to have copies of the text and it rarely happened due to lack of continuous expensive financing for materials on my and other team members part.

“Also, the information also wasn't in their head but rather in the class notebooks so I didn't see many of the life changes that I saw as a return on the amount of time and money our team has spent to train the national leaders with these academic methods.

“In contrast I have been absolutely thrilled with the results I've seen from teaching the classes using the Simply The Story method of inductive Bible study--"oral style"--has really been a treasure for workers in Service to our FRIENDS. 80-85% of the world either prefer or require stories and questions to learn.

What I've seen happen when our teams used Bible storytelling and followed with inductive questions about the story and then asked leading questions, the results have been amazing. Unbelievers are responding positively and asking for more stories and to know more about God.

“What I've seen happen when our teams used Bible storytelling and followed with inductive questions about the story and then asked leading questions, the results have been amazing. Unbelievers are responding positively and asking for more stories and to know more about God.

Many of our national leaders shared with tears in their eyes that they had never heard God speak to them before but now He is speaking to them through the stories.

“Many of the national missionaries shared that many unbelievers are coming to the Lord through the stories they tell and they now have a church and are discipling them using the stories.

“New believers are also immediately able to share with others.STS is very duplicatable and they are always prepared since the stories and truths are in their head and heart, not in notebooks.

It is Illegal to Share About Jesus There

“We had a great trip and great two weeks trip to XXX. It is never easy being separated from our families, so we want to thank you for your prayers of safety and blessing.

“We spent most of our time doing storytelling workshops with COMPANIES serving our FRIENDS' communities in XXX.

“It is illegal to share about Jesus in this country. Storytelling is the perfect method! At first the leadership (Pastor R) was hesitant to have us do the Storytelling, since they had already been through around 5 other Chrono-Storying seminars.

“But by the end of our time with them, Pastor R was totally sold out on this method. We heard him share with others that he told us that they would be using this method for the next 6 months, and then would invite us back for a refresher!

“The Simply The Story method of inductive Bible study--"oral style"--has really been a treasure for workers in Service to our FRIENDS.

Comments from a missionary in Thailand who hosted an out of country team to lead an STS Workshop.

“February 17-21 was a very special time for the Christian Mission. God blessed us by allowing us to host a 5-day seminar.

“I was privileged to watch people who never have spoken out before take an active part in teaching the Bible.

“Dr Larry Dinkins from OMF - I met him 10 years ago when we were in Chaingmai - brought in a team of Thai pastors to train our leaders in teaching the Bible.

“The first two days were for leaders - we had about 20 people; the second two days were for leaders to practice and others interested in learning - we had almost 40 people in attendance.

“Day 5 was a trip to a combined church service in Kuseman and there were about 100 people in attendance.

“It has been a long time since I have attended such a useful, practical and to the point seminar. Everyone was anxious to get back to their home churches and try it out; we will be doing the same thing here at the Christian Mission.

“Please keep this in your prayers; especially that our teens will be interested and willing to go with this. Three of them attended the seminar and appear to be very enthused about it.”
