Workshops: Attendees and Goals

Throughout the world of Simply the Story workshops introduce attendees to the strategies of discussion and discovery. We also demonstrate.

Through illustrations, we slowly hand off the information and skills of:

- How to easily learn a story.
- Finding spiritual treasures within a story.
- How to form questions that will help the attendees pass on their discoveries to those to whom they tell Bible stories.
Workshops

Workshop attendees learn all phases of STS through hands-on experience. More detailed workshop information:
- Can be found in the Design of STS articles on this site.
- Can be experienced through the Practitioner Audio Training.
- Can be read about in our STS Handbook.

In workshops we mix attendees. We love training:
- Both new and seasoned believers of all ages.
- People who are from diverse cultures, jobs and ministries.
- People from different educational and socioeconomic backgrounds.

In all of our workshops we demonstrate how centering on a Bible story levels the playing field of discovery.

As much as possible we gather a variety of learners. These attendees discover how studying Bible stories as we do in STS allows the Holy Spirit to speak to a wide range of people at the same time, all out of the same story.

Our Workshop Description flyer offers more details on what takes place in the workshop:
- The content.
- The length of training.
- The method of training trainers.
- The outcomes.
